FOR CONSIDERATION

"Insofar as you did it unto one of the least of these My brethren, you did it unto Me" (Matthew 25:40) says the Lord. It is the same in the giving of alms as it is in Communion: in Communion, under the form of bread and wine, we receive the living Lord Christ Himself; when giving alms, in giving to the poor we give the living Lord Christ Himself. There was a man in Constantinople who had a rare compassion. Going through the streets of the city, he put his gift into the hands of the poor and immediately went on his way, to avoid hearing their thanks and becoming known. When one of his friends asked him how he had become so compassionate, he replies: 'One day in church, I heard the priest say that what we give to the poor we give into the hands of the Lord Christ Himself. I didn't believe this, thinking that it couldn't be so, Christ being in heaven. Once, though, on the way home, I saw a poor man standing in the beggars' place – and the face of Christ shining over his head. Someone passed by and gave the beggar a piece of bread, and I saw the Lord stretch out His hand, take the bread and bless the giver. From that moment, I've always seen that Face over the heads of the beggars, and therefore, with greater fear, I give all the alms I can.'

QUOTES FROM THE HOLY FATHERS

It is fitting that Mary should be assisted by the holy Apostles, for she was the mother of them all, since the only-begotten Son and Word of God called his apostles brothers. It is fitting that her all-holy, God-bearing body, the receptacle of God, divinized and illumined by the divine light and full of glory, should be carried by the Apostles in company with the angels and confided for a short time to earth and elevated in glory into heaven with its God-pleasing soul.

Theoteknos of Livias

The Mother of God is the "ladder in the heavens" by which God came down, the "bridge leading men from earth to heaven", the "sea which drowned the Pharoah", the rock "which gushed forth water and quenched the spiritual thirst of the faithful", the "pillar of fire leading those lost in the wilderness" and the "sign of the promised land which flows milk and honey."

Saint Romanos the Melodos

"Honor Mary, but let the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit be worshipped; even though Mary is most beautiful and holy and venerable, yet she is nor worshipped." In spite of his reservations concerning too much adoration, however, Epiphanios stated elsewhere, "He who honors the Lord honors also the holy vessel; he who dishonors the holy vessel, also dishonors his Lord. Let Mary be by herself the holy virgin, the holy vessel". Epiphanios makes a strong distinction in the two passages between the words "honor" (timao) and worship (proskineo).

Epiphanios of Salamis
