QUOTES FROM THE HOLY FATHERS

When the Lord decides to honor you with spiritual gifts, do not consider them as rewards for your labors, and do not think that you have attained perfection. Such thoughts come from pride. The comforts and grace of the Holy Spirit are not rewards but gifts of divine mercy. Occasionally the Lord allows us to get a foretaste of future blessings so that we will put forth a greater effort in seeking His Eternal Kingdom.

St. Innocent of Alaska

The devil, who once was the carrier of the light of justice, of love and holiness, has become at once – through his rebellion against God – the absolute tool of darkness, hatred, evil, lie and everything that contributes to the disaster of death and corruption. He was, and will always be darkness, lies and perdition, with a clear purpose – to rebel against everything that comes from God and against God's providence and man in particular. He became, and will always be the heir of death and hell, having the main goal to deceive and attract on his side as many people as possible.

Elder Joseph of Vatopedi

The angel who is always near us is by nothing so distressed and made indignant as when, without being constrained by some necessity, we deprive ourselves of the ministration of the Holy Mysteries and of the reception of Holy Communion, which grants remission of sins. For at that hour the priest offers up the sacrifice of the Body of Him Who gives us life, and the Holy Spirit descends and consecrates the Body and Blood and grants remission to creation. The Cherubim, the Seraphim, and the angels stand with great awe, fear, and joy. They rejoice over the Holy Mysteries while experiencing inexpressible astonishment. The angel who is always by us is consoled because he also partakes in that dread spectacle and is not deprived of that perfect union.

St. Issak the Syrian
