QUOTES FROM THE HOLY FATHERS

Humility is the direction of the whole of our lives as Christians, or its foundation. For humility, God gives Grace. And grace gives us the strength to observe firmly the Divine commandments. Fulfillment of these commandments makes us participants of the joy of Christ, both here and in the life to come. If humility is in us, then all the Christian virtues will be inherent in us, as humility is their foundation. For the sake of humility and meekness, Grace will preserve us from all intrigues of the Enemy, will turn all our sorrows into joy, will forever unite us with Christ, and, while still in our earthly life, we will experience in inexpressible Heavenly joy of this union with God.

St. Seraphim of Sofia

Let there be no studied eloquence in the words of your prayer…. Do not launch into long discourses that fritter away your mind in efforts for eloquence. One word alone spoken by the Publican touched God's mercy: a single word full of faith saved the Good Thief. Many words in prayer often fill the mind with images and distract it, while often one single word draws it into recollection. St. John Climacus

It is a fearful thing to hate whom God has loved. To look upon another – his weakness, his sins, his faults, his defects – is to look upon one who is suffering. He is suffering from negative passions, from the same human corruption from which you yourself suffer. This is very important: do not look upon him with the judgmental eyes of comparison, noting the sins you assume you'd never commit. Rather see him as a fellow sufferer, a fellow human being who is in need of the very healing of which you are in need. Help him, love him, pray for him, do unto him as you would have him do unto you. St. Tikhon of Zadonsk
